Dear Madam,

I have had a very high fever last night. This morning I found myself very weak and heavy, and my father will be taking me to hospital. For this reason I will be absent from school today. I know how many lessons I shall miss today, but I get better I shall be able to work in school. I wanted to force myself and come to school, but I saw that I could not get better unless I go to hospital.

I hope that I will feel better tomorrow, and I will be able to come to school. When I come back from hospital, I will try to see my friend DJANTA and copy what you will teach them today.

Your loving student,

Ago
