I-Reading Comprehension (5 marks ×2)

Read the passage below very carefully and answer the questions that follow

Text: Road accidents

Every year, many people in Togo lose their lives through road accidents. Road accidents occur at all times but they are most frequent at Christmas and Easter. The causes of road accidents are many. Sometimes, they are caused by the carelessness of drivers or other road users. We also have bad roads. There are weak or narrow bridges and dangerous curves on some roads, and others are full of potholes.

To avoid accidents, drivers, pedestrians, cyclists or truck-pushers need to be very careful. Drivers must also avoid speeding, overloading and overtaking on bends. Road users must observe all road signs. People must always look carefully before crossing roads. If there are zebra crossings, they must use them. In addition, domestic animals such as goats, dogs and sheep should not be allowed to wander about in the towns.

Questions

1. When road accidents are most frequent?
2. Give two causes of road accidents in Togo.
3. Road users shouldn't observe all road signs. True or False?
